8. VALUATION PARAMETERS

I. Net Asset Value (NAV)

II. Price Earning Capacity Value (PECV)

III. Market Value.

I. Net Asset Value (NAV)

The Net Assets Method represents the value with reference to historical cost of assets owned by the company and the attached liabilities on particular date. Net asset will be calculated starting from the total assets of the company and deducting there from all debts, borrowing and liabilities, including current and Likely contingent Liability and preference capital if any. In other words it should represent true net worth of business after providing for all outside present and potential liabilities. In the case of companies, the net assets value calculated from assets side of the balance sheet in the above manner will be crossed checked with equity share capital plus free reserve and surplus, less likely contingent liabilities.

II. Price Earning Capacity Value (PECV)

The profit-earning capacity value will be calculated by capitalising the average of the after-tax profits at the following rates;

I. 15% in the case of manufacturing companies.

II. 20% in the case of trading companies.

III. 17.5% in the case of “intermediate companies”, that is to say, companies whose turnover from trading activity is more than 40%, but less than 60% of their total turnover.

The crux of estimating the profit-earning capacity value lies in the assessment of the future maintainable earnings of the business. While the past trends in profits and profitability would serve as a guide, it should not be overlooked that the valuation is for the future and that it is the future maintainable stream of earnings that is of greater significance in the process of valuation. All relevant factors that have a bearing on the future maintainable earnings of the business must, therefore, be given due consideration.

III. Market Value:

Pricing of infrequently traded shares are infrequently traded in terms of Regulation 2(l)(j) of the Securities and Exchange Board of India (Substantial Acquisition of Shares and Takeovers) Regulations, 2011 (“SEBI SAST Regulations”),

Where the shares of an issuer are not frequently traded, the price determined by the issuer shall take into account the valuation parameters including book value, comparable trading multiples, and such other parameters as are customary for valuation of shares of such companies in terms of Regulation 8(2)(e) of SEBI(SAST) Regulations.

The value has been derived by weighted average price arrived by NAV, PECV and Market price method.

Provided the issuer shall submit a certificate stating that the issuer is in compliance of this regulation, obtained from an independent valuer to the stock exchange where the equity shares of the issuer are listed.

10. CONCLUSION:

In the ultimate analysis, valuation will have to involve the exercise of judicious discretion and judgment taking into account all the relevant factors. There will always be several factors, e.g. present and prospective competition, yield on comparable securities and market sentiments etc. which are not evident from the face of the documents available with us but which will strongly influence the worth of a Shares and Debentures.

In the light of the above and on consideration of all the relevant factors and circumstances as discussed and outlined in this report, I conclude as under;

Sr. No.	Provisions	Minimum Price (in Rupees)
A	Regulation 8(2)(e) of the Securities and Exchange Board of India Substantial Acquisition of Shares and Takeovers) Regulations, 2011(“SEBI SAST Regulations”)	18.36
